Dad killed in crash on ‘road of death’

BY Chris Havergal

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A “GENTLE giant” was killed in his car as his horrified son sat beside him.

Dale Roberts, 47, had just picked up his teenage son, also Dale, for a day out when his Nissan Micra was in a collision with a Peugeot 306 on a notorious stretch of the A1307 near Linton.

Dale Jnr, 16, who lives in Haverhill, escaped with minor injuries but was severely shaken in the head-on smash, at lunchtime on Saturday.

Mr Roberts, of Cambridge Street, Godmanchester, was driving his son from Haverhill to St Neots for the day when the crash happened.

His death was the third fatality on the A1307 this year. It was also the third on the short section between Bartlow Road and Horseheath Road in just over two-and-a-half years.

The driver of the Peugeot, a 28-year-old woman from Norfolk, also suffered minor injuries.

Now campaigners have renewed their calls for action on the A1307.

Esther Cornell, spokeswoman for the Access 1307 campaign group and a Linton resident, said this was the latest in a long line of tragedies.

She said: “Every time we hear sirens on the A1307 it spreads fear across the whole community.

“You start to think of your nearest and dearest and where they are. This latest accident really shows something has got to be done.”

Her concerns were echoed by Jim Paice, MP for South East Cambridgeshire.

He said: “Every death on this road is a tragedy and when you have spent as much time as I – and many others – have, trying to get action to be taken, it is very frustrating to know the carnage is still going on.”

In May roadsweeper driver Robert Page, 31, of Barningham, was killed on the road near Abington.

His death came after Alice Westland, 16, was struck by a car in April and died directly opposite the bus stop where 15-year-old schoolgirl Imogen Barker lost her life last year.

Anthony Bacon, 35, died on the same stretch of the road near Linton where the latest victim lost his life in September 2006.

Ten months previously, an 18-year-old from Haverhill died when his car hit another, close to the location of Saturday's smash.

The A1307 at Linton is already under review to have its speed limit lowered to 50mph, and road safety chiefs at Cambridgeshire County Council say they want to see the number of accidents fall.

Mrs Cornell said: “We ask the county council to take immediate action to implement the planned road safety measures and the speed limit reduction plan.

“If we do not see any action taken on this we will be taking the matter to central Government.”

Mr Paice said: “The road has a terrible accident rate from Abington to the county border, and it is quite clear this section is inadequate for the traffic.

Dream golfing prize set to boost appeal

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

TWO lucky golfers will be going on an all-expenses-paid trip to Dubai if they win the star prize after taking part in the Charity Golf Classic on Saturday.

Haverhill Golfer Andy Mason, whose Emirates Exterior Steel Services company is based in Dubai, has donated a trip for two to play at the Emirates golf club, with return flights and three nights in a five star hotel, worth at least £2,000.

All participating golfers will be able to buy a £20 ticket in a draw for the prize at the auction after the golf in the evening. There are still a few places left and anyone interested should contact Chris Briggs on (01440) 703769.

Chris said: "It is very exciting, it is going to be the highlight of the event. We are hoping to raise about £3,000 from the prize alone. We are over the moon about it and very grateful to Andy, who is flying home to take part in the tournament."

■ One intrepid hospice fundraiser is off to the freezing wastes of Iceland on her latest trek to boost its funds.

Jenny Baskett, 45, has already trekked through the Himalayas and Vietnam to boost the funds of the Hospice and on Thursday, July 3, leaves with a party of seven for a five-day expedition with other charities. The arduous trip will involve walking for eight to nine hours a day, with a lot of heavy, volcanic ground to cover.

Jenny said: "I am not quite sure what to expect. I think it will be a bit like walking on the moon. The weather is going to be grim, the long-range forecast is for a maximum of nine degrees, with a lot of rain and some sleet. It will be below zero at night and we're camping."

"We are hoping we won't have to eat dried seal."

"The up-side is the sense of achievement you get when you have done it and that you are raising money for such a wonderful cause. We will probably raise around £3,000 and they need every penny. It takes about nine months to plan for a trip like this and you train for about six months. I do two hours in the gym three times a week."

Jenny started working as a volunteer in the in-patient unit at the hospice five years ago and still spends a day a week there, where she is responsible for little touches like individual meal trays with flowers and the patient's name on their serviette. Now she also works part-time as a fund-raiser for the hospice, helping to find the £9,000 a day it needs just to keep going. Jenny said: "I love that link with the patients because I am at the coalface and I see what a difference it makes to patients and their families and how important the fundraising job I do is."

I absolutely love the hospice, it has been very good for me. I was a stay-at-home mum and I wanted to do something worthwhile. It really gets into your blood here."

Jenny is planning another trek to New Zealand next year and anyone who is interested in joining her or who wants to sponsor her effort can ring her on (01284 747614).

■ Rock fans at Haverhill made plenty of noise on Saturday night and raised a magnificent £650 for the Hospice Appeal. Umbrella Assassins organised the charity gig at Haverhill Arts Centre and band member Gary McKervill said around 130 people enjoyed the event.

"It was a good night and we were pleased with the amount we raised. Everyone who came enjoyed themselves and we definitely plan to do something next year."

Ian Norris from the hospice went along to the gig and said: "It is the first time we have had a rock gig run for us and it was great because it is not our natural audience. We are a very grateful to Gary for all the work he put into organising it and very pleased with the money raised. It is the cost of keeping a couple of patients for a day, which is really great."

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help - so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fund-raising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible. If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause. A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842.

An on-line donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text. You can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop In High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Axe falls on schools

COUNCILLORS gave final approval to the plan to axe middle schools in Suffolk this week.

Suffolk County Council's Cabinet endorsed proposals for the future of schools in the Haverhill area at its meeting on Tuesday, which will mean the closure of Parkway, Chalkstone and Castle Hill Middle Schools in Haverhill, as well as Clare Middle. After a two-year transition period, the schools will finally close in September 2011, with pupils remaining in primary schools until the age of 11 before transferring to a secondary school. Parents at Clare are still considering a plan to apply for Foundation status for Clare Middle School in a bid to keep it open. More information about the school organisation review can be found at www.suffolk.gov.uk/sor.

Youngsters urged to get involved

YOUNG people interested in making a difference to their local community have joined a new Youth Forum created by the Havebury Housing Partnership's Tenants' Forum annual general meeting.

They were 12-year-old Rosemary Start, of Parkway Middle School in Haverhill, and 15-year-old Tochim Eduputa of Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College.

Two Haverhill students who helped to establish the Youth Forum were presented with certificates to mark their achievement when it was launched at Havebury Housing Partnership's presented with Havebury's Young Neighbour of the Year award for his hard work and enthusiasm in involving the younger community.

The AGM, which was themed around young people, was held at Moreton Hall Community Centre, Bury St Edmunds.

Jamie Cocksedge, a sixth former from Bury St Edmunds who has been instrumental in setting up the new group was also presented with Havebury's Young Neighbour of the Year award for his hard work and enthusiasm in involving the younger community.

"The new Youth Forum is a great way for young people to get together and make a difference, meet new people, learn new skills and have fun."

"One of our first projects has been to get involved with the Go Wild conservation scheme in Haverhill to create a new wildlife area."

YOUNG cyclists will be safer on their bikes this summer after being put through their paces at Clements Primary School. Cycling proficiency courses have been held at the Haverhill Primary School to encourage pupils to use their bikes to help protect the environment and boost their fitness, but also to make sure they know how to do so safely.

The scheme was run in conjunction with the AXA Hearts in Action volunteer scheme. David Daw, of Suffolk County Council, ran the courses in the school playground. It covered the rules of the road for cyclists, how to keep them safe and how to look after their bicycles.

A member of the school staff was also trained by Mr Daw to run future courses so that more pupils can benefit.

Action call as dad killed on 'road of death'

We need lower speed limits and probably speed cameras too. I know the county council is short of money and I am more than happy to support an application for extra funding."

Dale's distraught uncle Gordon Roberts told the Weekly News of his sorrow, and joined the calls for lower speed limits on the so-called "road of death".

Dale, who had four children, had lived with Gordon and his wife Annette at their home in Carter Close, Brampton, for many years.

Gordon, 54, said: "Dale Jnr is not doing very well – he's finding it very hard to deal with. He used to spend every Saturday with his dad but we will do that now. Dale was my nephew but I had started taking him out when he was eight and he was more like a brother.

"He was a gentle giant and we were always joking and mucking about. Sometimes you think you're too old for that but when you were with someone like him you still enjoyed it. Now all I feel is emptiness."

Dale, a keen sports fan, leaves two other adult children and a teenage daughter. His father, Ernie, was being comforted at his home in Hilton, near St Ives.

Gordon said something had to be done about safety on the A1307. He said: "I used to drive along that road a lot and there were always flowers in a different place. Now there will be flowers there for Dale. We will never get over his death."

A review had earmarked the Linton stretch of the road to have its speed limit lowered to 50mph, but it is yet to be put in place.

District and county councillor John Batchelor said: "The county council needs to get on with it – it might just save a life."

Campaigning district councillor Vicky Ford said: "The level of accidents on this road is unacceptable."

Amanda Mays, head of Cambridge-shire County Council's road safety engineering team, said: "The A1307 is a high priority for us and, while cutting speed limits is not an instant process, it is being worked on at the moment."

'Disgusting' decision to shut Chalkstone's P.O.

BY John Goode and Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

ANGER and disgust has greeted the announcement confirming the closure of branch and village post offices in west Suffolk.

Haverhill's Chalkstone post office is among 16 in the area which are to be axed, with closures due to take place in the autumn. The village sub-post offices in Cowlinge and Barton Mills will also go.

The closure announcement by Post Office Ltd was made on Tuesday, despite objections to many of the closures.

Ravinder Rai, owner of the Chalkstone Post Office, thanked everyone who supported the campaign to save it, including the 1,600 who signed a petition.

He said: "It is a great shame, but there is nothing else we can do."

"We did everything we could to try and save it, the Chalkstone Residents' Association organised the petition and MP Richard Spring supported it. Everyone did everything they could and I would like to thank them for their support."

"The shop will still carry on, it has been here longer than the post office. The post office is quite important to the local community because there are a lot of older people up here and I don't know how much they took that into account."

Mr Spring, whose West Suffolk constituency includes Haverhill, said he was disgusted that all the threatened post offices in his constituency would be closing, including the Chalkstone post office, which had the strongest case to remain open.

He said: "I am absolutely furious, they are not keeping any of these post offices open in my constituency."

"They have gone through a completely farcical process. They never had any intention of keeping any of these post offices open, even the one at Chalkstone which had real community support."

"There was no discussion about possible viability and the post master wanted to continue, but they just arbitrarily closed it down, even though it will be to the detriment of the local community."

During the six-week local public consultation, Post Office Ltd received more than 4,600 responses and attended 28 meetings with customers and their representatives.

Laura Tarling, Post Office Ltd's network development manager for Norfolk and west Suffolk, said: "These are difficult decisions which have not been taken lightly. We have considered very carefully all the comments made during the public consultation."

"We believe that the amended plan offers our customers across Norfolk and west Suffolk, the best prospect for a sustainable network in the future."

Gordon Mussett, Haverhill town clerk, said: "The town council is totally opposed to this closure and we have agreed to sign a declaration of secrecy to receive financial information from the Post Office about how much it takes and whether any subsidy is paid at the Chalkstone, to decide what can be done to try and keep it open."

TWO lucky golfers will be going on an all expenses trip to Dubai if they win the star prize after taking part in the Charity Golf Classic on Saturday.

Haverhill Golfer Andy Mason, whose Emirates Exterior Steel Services company is based in Dubai, has donated a trip for two to play at the Emirates golf club, with return flights and three nights in a five star hotel, worth at least £2,000. All participating golfers will be able to buy a £20 ticket in a draw for the prize at the auction after the golf in the evening. We are hoping to raise around £3,000 from the prize alone. We are over the moon about it and very grateful to Andy, who is flying home to take part in the tournament."

Haverhill golfers are proud of their impressive course which attracts players from far and wide and on Saturday will be helping to boost the coffers of the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal. The annual Haverhill Charity Classic Golf Day, is organised in association with the Haverhill Weekly News, and a share of this year's profits will go to the Hospice Appeal, with the remainder to East Anglian Children's Hospices and Rotary charities. Over previous years the event has already raised something approaching £94,000 and organisers are hoping to reach the six figure mark this year. There are 33 teams signed up for the popular event and as well as a great game of golf, those taking part can also enjoy a meal afterwards, and entertainment by comedian Russ Williams, who will also conduct an auction with close to 30 tempting lots including a signed Manchester United ball and picture, a dart board signed by top professionals and a hot air balloon ride. Last year's event raised a magnificent £15,000, which was divided between East Anglia's Children's Hospice

(E.A.C.H) and other charities, as well as some being given to the Rotary Charity Fund for local good causes. Chris Briggs, President of Haverhill Golf Club, and a member of Haverhill Rotary Club, which helps organise the event, is hoping to be able to make a substantial donation to the Weekly News Appeal, which has so far raised £15,000 towards its £40,000 target to pay for services to be provided for patients in the Haverhill area in their own homes, rather than having to travel to the Hospice in Bury St Edmunds. Mr Briggs said: "We chose the Hospice at Home Appeal because of the Weekly News, and we think it is a great idea what they are trying to do for Haverhill. We support the Hospice because they do a great job there, but this is fantastic because it is for Haverhill. We think it is a very worthwhile cause and hope to raise as much as we can for it."

Special tea date for star Gwen

BATTLING grandmother Gwen Dalton found herself a "star" guest at a House of Commons tea party this week. Mrs Dalton, 73, was chosen as West Suffolk's local hero by her MP Richard Spring and joined him with her husband Leslie in London for a National Awards Ceremony at the House of Commons. The annual event, hosted by the Experience Corps, recognises the community contributions made by older volunteers. With other local heroes from around the country, Mrs Dalton was treated to afternoon tea in the House of Commons, before being presented with a certificate of recognition for her community achievements. Mrs Dalton, who has four grandchildren, has lived at Rushmere Place, Haverhill, since 1971 and over the years has not shied away from tackling difficult problems on the estate where she lives. She said: "I feel really honoured to be chosen, I have always just done what I thought was right. I started in 1999 when we had problems with travellers moving in near the Railway Walk, so I got in touch with Richard Spring and the council. We got gates put up to stop them moving in again. Then I became involved with the residents association and now I work with the Safer Neighbourhood Team. I enjoy doing it and I feel if you can help people live together without upsetting other people you should do something about it."

Richard Spring said he had many nominations from across his constituency, but Mrs Dalton stood out above them all.

He said: "Gwen Dalton has worked tirelessly for many years to improve the town and the surrounding area where she lives.

"Those who nominated her wrote of her heart of gold and lively enthusiasm for helping others.

"She is really a pillar of the community and the most striking thing about her is her modesty and how her wonderful work is done in such an unsung way.

"She is just a star and thoroughly deserves the recognition she received today."

Plan for garden of reflection

A GARDEN of Reflection to mark the deaths of young people in tragic circumstances could be established at Haverhill by the town's Haverhill in Bloom group.

Trevor Barwood, chairman of Haverhill in Bloom, met the town's MP Richard Spring to discuss the group's plans and ambitions for the future.

He told Mr Spring that the group is working towards publishing a two-year plan of goals and aims. Mr Barwood has ambitions for the group beyond bulb-planting, including working with the youth centre to create a Garden of Reflection to mark the deaths of young people in tragic circumstances.

Haverhill in Bloom is also looking at fund-raising for sustainable planting for the good of future generations and would also like the group to be more visual in the community, with local residents assisting with litter picks.

The group finds it difficult to raise sufficient funds to pursue their projects.

Mr Spring said: "Haverhill in Bloom has been a great success to date and Trevor has plenty of fresh ideas to keep that momentum on track.

"I have been involved in Haverhill in Bloom since its inception. The planting arrangements and flowers bring enjoyment to us all. I very much hope I shall be able to lend my support and assistance once again this summer."

Head furious over Balls' closure call

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A FURIOUS headteacher plans to write to Education Secretary Ed Balls expressing her anger at his damaging suggestion that her school should be closed.

Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill is one of four in Suffolk which Mr Balls said should close because of their GCSE pass rates.

This comes despite having outstanding features, according to Ofsted inspectors in December, and being in the top 10 per cent of the country's schools for value added learning.

Suffolk County Council has already said it has no plans to close the Haverhill school, or the other three – two in Ipswich and one in Lowestoft – because their level of five GCSE passes at A-C grades, including English and Maths, is below 30 per cent.

Madeleine Vigar, who has seen a transformation of the school since taking over as head in 2003, said she felt the comments were misleading.

Parents have also come to the school's defence. Dawn Gower said she was very happy to send her child there and would recommend it to others.

Mrs Gower said: "It is so unfair, Castle Manor got an outstanding Ofsted report and this is not helping.

"I have a quite able child who is doing incredibly well there. They don't sit on their laurels, they know there has been a problem with maths, as there is across the country, and they have a new maths team which is getting good results.

"It is a completely different school from five years ago."

Ms Vigar said: "This year 70 per cent of Castle Manor students will achieve 5 GCSE grades A* to C.

"This means that the number of students achieving 5 or more A* to C grades, including English and maths will rise above 30 per cent by August.

"Ofsted told us what our students, parents, staff and governors already knew: that Castle Manor is a good school which has made rapid and significant improvements.

"Staff work tirelessly to ensure the best possible life chances for students."

GPs services outlined for health centre

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

DECISIONS have been made on the first services to be provided in the proposed new GP-led health centre due to open in Haverhill next April.

The Haverhill Locality Group has agreed in principle that minor injuries services, phlebotomy, walk-in clinics for smoking, childhood obesity, sexual health and alcohol and substance misuse will be included in the GP contract.

All these services will be available to all patients in Haverhill and its surrounding areas, not just those registered at the new practice.

Tim Holland-Smith, chairman of the Haverhill Locality Group, said: "It was a key task to get this basic level of contract sorted out."

"These services will be introduced from April 1, 2009, so it is important to plan them well."

"All the members mentioned how helpful the meetings have been and that it was important to continue to meet regularly. Our advice will become important again as the project progresses."

The advisory group will meet again in September to monitor general progress and discuss what additional services could be provided for the people of Haverhill and the surrounding area.

These could include access to diagnostics, such as x-ray and ultrasound, dentistry, orthodontics and occupational therapy.

The group's members have a broad range of knowledge and include local GPs, Haverhill Association of Voluntary Organisations, St Edmundsbury Borough councillors and Haverhill Town Council, a patient representative and Suffolk Primary Care Trust.

The first services will be introduced from April 1, 2009 and are likely to be located in existing or temporary health care facilities.

Background work and planning is under way to secure a permanent home for the services, which could involve a purpose-built centre or refurbished facility located centrally in Haverhill.

Sleepy heads are record breakers

BROWNIES have entered the record books even though they were sleeping.

Members of the 6th Haverhill group were among many schools and youth groups holding an event as part of the Giant Sleepover to raise much needed funds for Save the Children, as well as having an evening of fun and games.

Their Giant Sleepover broke two Guinness World Records, one for having the largest number of children simultaneously sleeping over on one night across the UK and the other (the following morning) for the largest number of children simultaneously brushing their teeth. The second attempt was sponsored by Aquafresh and the girls had to brush their teeth for two minutes at 9am. The event was held at the Old Independent Church Hall, Haverhill, from 5pm on Saturday until 9.30am on Sunday.

The girls' endeavours have paid off and they have won a place in the Guinness Book of Records. Pearl Fraser, Brownie Guider, said: "The girls played games and also completed the Hostess badge.

"They decorated cakes for the refreshments and served them after the family service on Sunday. They also made table decorations and served the tea."

Many schools and youth groups around the country took part in the successful record-breaking event.

Congestion charge plan is scrapped

CONTROVERSIAL plans for charging motorists up to £5 for driving in Cambridge have been scrapped.

Cambridgeshire County Council made the shock announcement on Monday night, saying it was going "back to the drawing board" due to "lack of support" from the public and businesses.

It had planned to charge motorists, including city residents, between £3 and £5 for driving in Cambridge between 7.30am and 9.30am Monday to Friday.

The scheme was met with a storm of protest when it was unveiled last July as residents said they were being taxed for leaving their own homes, commuters claimed they would be unable to afford to get to work and businesses warned they would be forced to leave town.

Now Cllr Jill Tuck, the new leader of the county council, said the scheme needs "at the very least, refinement" and announced the formation of a new commission which will investigate the issue and come up with an "innovative and far-reaching transport strategy for Cambridge".

But the council is not completely abandoning the idea of congestion charging and has said it is still hoping to secure £500 million for transport improvements from the Government's Transport Innovation Fund (TIF).

The move has been widely welcomed by opposition groups including councillors and business leaders.

Clr Tuck said: "We have listened carefully over the last few months and it is clear that the Transport Innovation Fund scheme we put forward last autumn does not have sufficient support either from other key organisations or the public and needs, at the very least, refinement."

"The Government's Transport Innovation fund does give us a unique opportunity to attract substantial Government funding for transport improvements and we will continue to work with them in the hope of securing that.

"The £500 million we have requested is way in excess of anything we could ever raise locally, but such a huge cash injection does have to be accompanied by a congestion charging scheme.

"It will be for the commission to determine what is best for Cambridge but any scheme must have support from key public and private organisations and also the public."

Among those invited to be part of the commission are the Chamber of Commerce and Trade and the Federation of Small Businesses.

Addenbrooke's Hospital - whose chief executive Gareth Goodier wrote a "strongly worded" letter to the council opposing its inclusion in the scheme earlier this year - is also included.

Cambridge Chamber of Commerce launched the People Against Congestion Charge Alliance last month. John Bridge, chief executive of Cambridgeshire Chambers of Commerce, said: "We welcome this initiative and hope to work together in true partnership to find the right set of recommendations to get to a solution."

Opposition councillors and business leaders said the council was right to reassess the plans while leaving the opportunity to bid for £500 million from the Government for transport improvements on the table.

But proposals for a new commission involving business groups, Addenbrooke's Hospital and Cambridge University, have been criticised as leaving the critical issue of transport planning for Cambridge in the hands of an "unlected quango".

Martin Lucas-Smith, from Unclog Cambridge and co-ordinator of Cambridge Cycling Campaign, said: "Congestion charging, and the massive upfront money from government that would accompany it, offers everyone - motorists included - many benefits.

"As a local expert body on this issue, Cambridge Cycling Campaign will be demanding a place on the commission.

"The Cycling Campaign feels it will be a valuable forum in which to make clear to various stakeholders the range of benefits that congestion charging would have, when combined with the £500 million of up-front money that is at stake.

"The county council's announcement today does not form the end of the line for congestion charging, and it should not be seen that way. It is clear to us that the absolutely massive improvements to public transport and cycling planned will not come from the government if a congestion charge is not introduced."

Consultants join food week lesson

HOSPITAL consultants and executives will be dishing up healthy meals to highlight the importance of food in aiding recovery.

A special nutrition awareness week has been running at West Suffolk Hospital in Bury St Edmunds this week. The idea is to teach patients and relatives how healthy balanced meals play a part in getting better.

Nurses on ward F3 will be assisted by consultants and trust executives in serving patients at meal times.

Sister Bev Hartland has organised the event, which is the first of its kind to take place at the hospital.

She said: "Research has shown that so many of the people who come into hospital, and especially those who are elderly or vulnerable, are undernourished.

"Ward F3 is an orthopaedic ward, so we try to ensure everyone who comes in is assessed for their nutritional needs.

If necessary, we will then carry out interventions such as introducing specially tailored, enriched diets and feeding aids involving family.

"We work closely with the ward dietitian, Isabel Hooley, to make sure patients really are getting all the nutrients which they need.

"Feedback we have had from the patients shows they are really appreciate having help to eat.

"We also try and involve the families by asking them to help us fill out food diaries for the patients, and have received lots of compliments as a result."

Recent surveys have placed West Suffolk among the top performing hospitals in the country for providing help for patients who have difficulty eating.

The quality of food at West Suffolk was praised in a survey, with patients ranking the trust among the best in the country.

Enjoy outdoors adventure with King Arthur

AN EVENING in the park will take a dramatic turn when the story of King Arthur and The Sword in the Stone is brought to life by Cambridge Touring Theatre Company. The group will bring its latest outdoor production to Haverhill's East Town Park on Saturday at 1.30pm, and audience members are invited to bring along a picnic while they enjoy the hilarious and energetic outdoor production. Cambridge Touring Theatre is well known for its energetic performances in some of the most picturesque spots in the region, and over the past seven years has performed such classics as The Wind in the Willows and Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. The group is headed up by Rosie Humphreys, who moved to Cambridge after working for the English National Opera in London. He said: "We have a very strong family feel to the company, we genuinely want our performers to feel happy about working with us and this comes through in their performances. "All performers are chosen because they enjoy children. We are going from strength to strength."

The Sword in the Stone brings a theatrical experience for the whole family. Everyone is invited to join the group as they take you on the mystical and often hilarious adventures of Arthur, a young squire and his tutor, the magical wizard Merlin.

Come and help them solve their quests so that the prophecy of the sword is fulfilled and Arthur becomes the rightful king of England.

Tickets are £7.50, £5 concessions, £20 a family ticket, available by phoning (01440) 714140.

■ STONE AGE... Arthur warms up as the Cambridge Touring Theatre company puts the final touches to its production of The Sword in the Stone.

Going on a romantic adventure is a great idea this week. If you're single, you could find the love of your life on an exotic trip. If you are already in a relationship, you could be swept up by passion. Work demands could also pick up throughout the next few days.

ENERGY EFFICIENCY

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

With the recent introduction of Energy Performance Certificates (EPC's) as part of the Home Information Packs (HIP) by the government for all domestic properties for sale energy efficiency in your home will undoubtedly become more important.

As utility bills and fuel costs continue to rise the Energy Performance Certificate may increasingly be used by house buyers to forecast the energy running costs of the property, to re-negotiate the asking price or insist on energy efficiency improvements being carried out prior to purchase.

Putting the notorious Home Information Pack aside, the government estimates that 'on average every household in the UK could save approximately £300 per year by improving the energy efficiency of their home and making small changes to the way energy is used'.

With the government currently making grants available to house owners to fit cavity wall and loft insulation, install efficient boiler and control systems and other energy saving devices it certainly makes sense to investigate the possibility of improving your homes energy efficiency.

The Energy Performance Certificate following an inspection by a Domestic Energy Assessor grades a property from A to G (A being Carbon Neutral). Recent figures released show that the average grade currently being achieved in the UK is an E and therefore there are real opportunities for home sellers who improve their homes energy efficiency to stand out from the crowd, reduce their fuel bills and help the environment.

Green Life Solutions is a locally based independent company providing Energy Performance Certificates and Home Information Packs for the domestic, rented, new build and commercial housing sectors.

As you would expect we are fully qualified, vetted, accredited and insured and pride ourselves in providing a friendly, professional and efficient service.

Whether you are looking to move home and need a Home Information Pack or looking to improve the environmental impact and energy efficiency of your home Green Life Solutions will be pleased to help.

Call us for advice, guidance or a chat regarding your Energy Performance Certificate or Home Information Pack requirement. We will be pleased to help 01440 731875.

MOTORING

Bentley's super-flyer is all go

IT was Ettore Bugatti who said of WO Bentley: "Mr Bentley produces the fastest lorries in Europe."

This was a sidelong swipe at massive machines such as the 1928 supercharged Bentleys that hastened the English upper classes to picnics, down to Monaco or even to a win at Le Mans.

Today's Bentley is still massive, it still offers the highest standards of engineering and comfort and still does about the same to the gallon – around 12 if you are lucky. The Flying Spur will set you back £117,500 and I will leave you to work out how much the 20 gallon fuel tank will cost at the pumps. Frankly you do not run a Bentley if money is in any way a problem.

When I sink into the leather and walnut of the car and viewed the quarter deck stretching out in front I expected leisurely progress. But the Flying Spur is well named and reaches 60mph in 4.9 seconds – having no doubt shot several gallons into the twin turbocharged V12 engine.

Inside, the Bentley is regally appointed. Full leather seats, trim and headlining are standard as are electric seats, four-zone climate control and satnav. If you are not entirely satisfied with the rear bench seat this can be replaced by tailored, individual arm chairs.

FIRST DRIVE

Large, pricey, luxurious

The car rides exceptionally well and most road irregularities are simply smothered by the adjustable suspension. It can get a little unsettled on poor roads.

It is very difficult to hear the engine when cruising. Such enviable levels of silence do, however, throw up other problems. You can hear wind around the mirrors at motorway cruising speeds although, to be fair, on most cars it would be drowned out by other sounds.

If I have a criticism of the Flying Spur it is one of visibility. The internal mirror seems remarkably mean and offers a rather poor view through the modestly sized rear window. And the door pillars take their structural strength seriously and tend to block off a chunk of view when rounding a bend or attempting to park.

The ignition key can be kept in the pocket and the car started via a button on the centre console or if you prefer a traditional approach you get an ignition key. The handbrake is electronic and releases itself on moving off.

For a day at the races the boot is positively enormous and well able to take a picnic basket – 475 litres of well-shaped space to be precise. The boot can be opened remotely and closed automatically.

BASICALLY...

A traditionally luxurious saloon for those not bothered by money or green credentials. Mechanical parts are largely from VW and Audi and have proven reliability. Bugatti

Motorists keen on choice of fuels as prices rocket

RECENTLY, oil prices have hit a huge £68 ($134) per barrel.

On UK roads, motorists are caught in the credit crunch. Last month, research carried out by www.motorinsurance.co.uk indicated that running costs for the average car have now exceeded £5,000 per year, with fuel being the biggest vehicle related expense.

Now, www.motorinsurance.co.uk can report that one in four UK motorists want to convert to LPG fuel, according to a recent survey.

LPG fuel, or liquefied petroleum gas (also known as AutoGas) can be used as an alternative to traditional fuel and is currently around half the price of petrol or diesel. Other advantages of LPG are that it is better for the environment, and vehicles that run on LPG may be subject to less congestion charge and road tax. These vehicles are also said to have a longer life.

In order for a vehicle to run on this type of fuel it must undergo a conversion, which starts from around £1,600, and takes just a few days.

The survey also revealed a further 20 per cent would be happy to convert as long as their vehicle could switch between LPG and petrol or diesel as necessary.

Shockingly, 15 per cent of UK drivers didn't even know there was an alternative to traditional fuel, which begs the question - is the Government doing enough to encourage a solution to pollution on our roads?

Alan Hocking, fleet and supplies Manager at Humberside Police, comments that using LPG is helping to reduce the cost of keeping the local community safe as well as tackling climate change.

"We made the move for environmental reasons and the reduction in fuel costs is an additional benefit," he says. "Every penny that we save from the budget can go directly to supporting front-line policing for the community."

Yet, despite the benefits, not every motor insurance provider covers drivers who have had their vehicle converted to LPG.

Commenting on the results of the survey, managing director Paul Cosh explains why www.motorinsurance.co.uk

K is one of the providers who insure LPG fuel vehicles.

"We believe that customers should have choice. We offer cover for vehicles that have been converted to LPG fuel, and we are proud to be able to say we support this. Unless more insurers come on board the outlook for a greener society is looking bleak."

Statistics show that there are only just over 100,000 vehicles in the UK that run on LPG fuel, out of the many millions of vehicles on our roads.

Toyota's 'vision' is on the way

JAPANESE car maker Toyota has announced a formidable array of classic and contemporary vehicles for its entry in the upcoming Goodwood Festival of Speed (July 11-13).

Along with a mouth-watering collection of racing cars and bikes, Toyota is also promising an appearance by its i-REAL concept.

According to the firm it is a "vision for the future of everyday, sustainable personal transport" and will be making its UK debut.

For motorsport fans, there will be a large collection of familiar machinery. Formula 1, World Rally and Le Mans sports cars will be let loose, with the company's WRC Corolla making its first appearance at the event - driven by rally hero Juha Kankkunen.

Other attractions include Toyota's 2007-spec F1 racer and the successful TS010 Le Mans car from the 1991-1993 seasons.

Skoda Superb will be priced from £15,490

SKODA UK has announced pricing for the all-new Superb, starting at £15,490 for the entry-level S model.

The range continues with the SE and top-specification Elegance models, but even the S model comes with seven airbags, aircon, electric windows and door mirrors and 16-inch alloy wheels.

The engine range includes new additions such as the 1.4-litre TSI petrol unit and a 168bhp 2.0-litre diesel, featuring common-rail injection technology for the first time on a Skoda. The Superb is also available with the famed DSG transmission, in six and seven-speed configurations.

The entry-level S version comes with the 1.4 TSI unit, while the cheapest diesel version is the £15,950 1.9 TDI. The range is completed by the Elegance 2.0 TDI CR 4x4 at £23,835. The new Superb is available from September.

CRICKET ROUND-UP

Simon's effort simply can't bring a victory

SIMON Youngs did his bit with bat and ball, but could not prevent Haverhill slipping to a 68-run defeat at home to Easton in Division Two of the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship on Saturday.

The vice-captain took 4 for 33 late on as Easton set a massive total of 276 for 5 in the reduced 40 overs-a-side game.

Youngs hit an unbeaten 45, while Dave Godwin smacked 45 and Dan Poole 41 in reply, but Haverhill were always off the pace as they reached 208 for 6.

■ WESTON COLVILLE'S five-wicket victory at Kimbolton on Saturday left the hosts rooted to the bottom of the Tucker Gardner Cambs and Hunts Premier League, Division Two table.

The hosts let themselves down with the bat as they were all gone for 94, and Colville reached 95 for 5 in reply.

■ It was very much a family affair at Pembroke College in Cambridge on Saturday as the Ketteridge clan helped HORSEHEATH inflict a rare home defeat on Camden II in Division One of the Cheffins CCA Senior League.

Gary Ellis' visitors notched

196 for 9 as Mick Ketteridge, who was dropped in the 20s, compiled 85 and Alan and Jason Ketteridge amassed 38 and 37 respectively.

Skipper Nigel Dixon, Andy Brown and Viktor Dixon all took two wickets each for the hosts.

And Robbie Ketteridge then stepped up to the plate and helped himself to 5 for 31 as Camden capitulated from 30 without loss to 95 all out.

Triumphant captain Ellis said: "Winning the toss helped and we put a big score on the board.

"It was nice to win as we're up to third in the table."

Goldsmith's knock puts Horseheath on course

HORSEHEATH got back to winning ways last week with a narrow victory over Haverhill in the third round of the AH Cup.

Dan Goldsmith scored an unbeaten 62 to help Horseheath to 143 for 4.

In reply, Haverhill came close to the total set by Horseheath, finishing on 138 for 8.

Helions Bumpstead hammered Abington this week, winning with 10 wickets and more than nine overs to spare.

Will Earl (48) did well for Abington as they reached 126 for 5, but Amit Gupta smashed league records with a remarkable century off just 39 balls to give Helions the victory.

Jon Woodgate (58) and Dan Archer (36no) helped Babraham to a 94-run victory over underdogs Castle Manor.

Babraham set a target of 184 for Castle Manor could only manage 90 for 9 in reply.

Sawston cruised to victory to keep alive their hopes of a promotion and cup double against Long Melford. Stuart Whitehart took 3 for 43 as the hosts finished on 144 for 6. Melford's reply finished on 125 for 7.

Horseheath defeated Weston Colville in the only game in Division One this week to keep up the pressure on the leaders.

Wes Walker took an impressive 5 for 26 as Weston Colville reached 123 for 8 but Dave Brown's unbeaten 45 was enough to take Horseheath to victory as they finished on 128-3.

In Division Two, Sawston's 187 for 3 was enough to see off Thurlow who struggled to 96 all out. Glen Goosen was the star man for Sawston, hitting an impressive 110.

Abington II are through to the final of the cup after victory against Great Yeldham.

In a close match, Great Yeldham needed four off the last ball but fell just short on 109 for 9 chasing 110 for 8 set by Abington.

A superb unbeaten 74 from Kevin Pools helped Hundon to a big score of 175 for 3 in a match where Gestingthorpe II struggled and only reached 50 for 9.

Batting first, Chris Baird hit 50 not out as Hundon reached 112 but it was not enough to beat league leaders Great Yeldham who won with 2.2 overs remaining.

In a low-scoring match, Babraham II triumphed with just three balls remaining in 3B. Abington II had set a target of 95 but Sam Palmers unbeaten 46 was enough to help his team reach 97 for 1.

Weston Colville had a good win against high-flying Mill Green in the week. Will Young's 4 for 11 helped limit the hosts to 98-9 and Baz Oram starred with the bat for Colville hitting 31.

GOLF

Last-16 clash is Walk in Park

HAVERHILL Golf Club's team captain Jim Walker has some tough decisions to make after his team saw off Stowmarket by 11 holes to reach the quarter-finals of the Parks Trophy.

With so many of his original squad unavailable, the reserves played admirably to beat last year's winners and set up a home clash against Ipswich team St Clements next month.

The Haverhill seniors' friendly match against Towerlands (Braintree) resulted in a 5-3 win.

The Thursday Lady captain's Charity Event resulted in a countback victory for Bury St Edmunds.

Their winning score was 95 stableford points, which was the same as Chelmsford.

Haverhill's Weston Cup team entertained Thorpeness. Unfortunately, the home team lost out 3-2 as the visitors completed the double.

The June Smith Silver Salver was a stableford event which went in favour of Lyn Fish, who finished three points up on the chasing pair of Heather Eldred and Mary Sail. Midweek Medal results - Division One: C Sisson 65, C Vince 67, P Houchen, H Mills, M Macnamara 71, E Fairhead, J Thomson 73, A Carter 74, P McLennan 75, T Marsh, D McComb 77, D Galloway 83.

TENNIS

Haverhill B show their character

HAVERHILL Tennis Club's B team were hosts to Newmarket C and got back to winning ways with a 5-3 victory in the Norfolk & Suffolk League.

Pat Rance and Peter Cundall won 6-4 then lost 4-6 to Derek Howard and Brett Byrd.

Rance and Cundall then played the other Newmarket pairing of Chris Arnold & Clive Haddock, who plays with a wicked spin on all his strokes. They had a long first set losing out on a tie break 6-7 and then 3-6.

Ray Goddard and Jake Warner won all of their sets 6-3, 6-3 and 6-2, 6-2.

In their previous league match, Haverhill B lost 3-5 to unbeaten Newmarket B. David Payne and Steve Withers won one set 7-5 then lost next set 4-6 to Gary Baxter and Peter Hunt. Payne and Withers then met the strong pairing of Mark Bond and Matt Lord, losing 0-6, 1-6.

Ray Goddard and young Ross Tobin lost 2-6, 3-6 to Bond and Lord, after being a point away from leading 3-0.

Goddard and Tobin then went on to beat Baxter and Hunt 7-5, 6-4.

Rovers' taste of home comforts

■ PASTURES NEW . . . Jamie Thurlbourne.

HAVERHILL Rovers face a home tie with fellow Suffolk side Long Melford in the preliminary round of the Ridgeons League Challenge Cup, which was drawn this week.

And victory over a Melford side that finished rock bottom of Division One last season could see new manager Larry Billings' team line up in a local derby with Saffron Walden Town, also at Hamlet Croft, in the first round.

However, Walden, who narrowly missed out on a spot in the top flight in May, must first negotiate their preliminary round encounter with Cornard United, who finished one place ahead of Melford last term.

Rovers, who spent the final two months of the 2007/8 campaign under the stewardship of caretaker player-manager Marcus Hunt, appointed Billings as the long-term successor to former boss Steve Taylor earlier this month.

Billings, who will be having his first taste of management at senior level, will now be eagerly awaiting the publication of the Ridgeons League, Premier Division fixtures, which are expected to be released on July 17.

Full League Challenge Cup draw:

Preliminary Round: FC Clacton v Whitton United, Harwich & Parkstone v Ipswich Wanderers, Haverhill Rovers v Long Melford, King's Lynn Reserves v Norwich United, Kirkley & Pakefield v Gorleston, Lowestoft Town v Diss Town, Mildenhall Town v Godmanchester Rovers, Saffron Walden Town v Cornard United, Tiptree United v Felixstowe & Walton United, Wisbech Town v March Town United. Ties to be played week commencing October 20.

Meanwhile, ex-Rovers manager Taylor, who has taken the helm at Haverhill's Premier Division rivals Wisbech, has been swift to line up a couple of players from his days at Hamlet Croft.

Striker Nick Impey and left-sided player Jamie Thurlbourne, who were also with Taylor at Ely City, are both expected to join their former boss at Fenland Park for the new campaign.

Impey has also played for Town v Debenham LC, Halstead Town v Ely City, Harwich & Parkstone v Ipswich Wanderers v Woodbridge Town, Haverhill or Long Melford v Saffron Walden or Cornard, Histon Reserves v Newmarket Town, Lowestoft or Diss v Leiston, Needham Market (holders) v Stowmarket Town, Stanway Rovers v Hadleigh United, Swaffham Town v King's Lynn Reserves or Norwich United, Thetford Town v Downham Town, Walsham-le-Willows v Kirkley & Pakefield or Gorleston, Wisbech or March v Wroxham, Wivenhoe Town v Brantham Athletic. Ties to be played week commencing October 20.

Taylor had been linked with the Fenland Park job when it fell vacant on previous occasions, most recently in 2004 when he was at Ely.

Newmarket Town, while Thurlbourne had a stint with Cambridge City.

"Both players will be good additions to the squad," said Taylor.

"They are two of my targets and have agreed to sign for Wisbech, despite offers from other clubs."

Chatteris-based Taylor was unveiled as the Fennmen's new boss earlier this month. He succeeds Roy McManus, who quit the club at the end of last season.

Taylor had been linked with the Fenland Park job when it fell vacant on previous occasions, most recently in 2004 when he was at Ely.

The 41 year old, who took Haverhill to the Ridgeons Premier as Division One runners-up in the 2006/7 season, has also managed Chatteris and Warboys.
